Assembly

City council at its regular meeting Tuesday night approved four fund transfers and passed a resolution accepting the amounts and rates as determined by the Columbia county budget commission for the new year and certifying them to the county auditor.

In conclusion, the council adjourned to meet in a farewell assembly at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 30, when new members of council will be sworn in and bonds posted.

Budget Figures Listed

The budget commission's figures revealed a total of $100,794 to be derived from the seven mills outside the 10-mill limitation, and $46,076 from the 3.20 mills inside the 10-mill limitation.

A total of 2,900 mills (within the 10-mill limitation) is expected to yield $41,757 for the general fund, while the six mills outside the limitation will give an anticipated income of $88,395 for bond retirement, according to the resolution.

The police pension will derive $4,319 from 30 of a mill, while the one mill voted for relief purposes is expected to bring in $14,399.

Among the four ordinances approved was one transferring $2,000 from the waterworks fund to the maintenance fund of the waterworks to carry that department through the rest of the present year.

Another measure transferred $500 from the waterworks fund to the pipe extensions fund, while still a third transferred $100 from the electric contract fund to the electric current fund under service.

The fourth ordinance transferred $350 from the general fund to witness fees fund under city trial expense to take care of court costs, incurred in the city's recent suit arising over storm water sewer damage claim.

WPA On Vacation

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff reported that a government-sponsored WPA vacation had caused delay in the street paving projects in the city.

He explained, however, that the vacation would end within a week and that WPA workers then would resume the laying of curb on Mount St. Clair will next be installed on Brooklyn ave. which has been graded for paving.

Service Director Frank Wilson announced that pipe had arrived for the proposed water line extension on N. Madison st. but that work had not commenced.

The old Stark Electric railway crossing at the Benton road was reported improved by the director, who also explained that the abandoned tracks on N. Ellsworth ave. and Second st. had been covered with asphalt, making the street smoother and safer for vehicular traffic.

As Graf Spee, a Flaming Wreck, Foundered

This exclusive air view shows the Admiral Graf Spee, German pocket battleship, afire from stem to stern and sinking in the roadstead just outside the harbor of Montevideo, Uruguay. The ship had been blasted by her own crew, who thus avoided almost certain capture by Allied war vessels. This picture was flown from Montevideo to Buenos Aires, Argentina, and from that point radioed to the United States. The Graf Spee's captain and crew got away safely.

MUSIC TO MARK
YULE SERVICESSt. Paul's Church Planning Annual Christmas
Observance

Special music will be an outstanding part of the masses arranged at St. Paul's church for the annual Christmas observance, beginning Sunday night.

Following the custom of years, a midnight mass will be held at 12 Sunday night, followed by additional masses at 5:30 a. m. Monday, 7, 9 and 10:30 a. m.

Music Prior to Mass

Prior to the midnight mass, there will be a program of organ music, by Miss Sarah Colman, and hymns, beginning at 11:45 p. m. The service itself will be a solemn high mass, with special music by the young people's choir of 30 voices. A similar program will be carried out at the last mass at 10:30 a. m. Monday, also a high mass.

The offertory hymn will be the "Adeste Fideles." Other favorites, such as "Silent Night," will be included.

The children's mass will be sung at 9 a. m. Monday, featuring a program of Christmas music, particularly hymns.

Admission to the midnight mass Sunday will be by ticket, it was announced today by Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Mahan, pastor.

Rev. Mahan and his assistant, Rev. Fr. Herbert Cook, will conduct the various masses, aided by Rev. Fr. John Fisher, a Dominican, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Fisher of Franklin st.

In the meantime, youngsters at St. Paul's school are anxiously awaiting an official visit of Santa Claus Thursday, a trifle early, perhaps, but nevertheless welcome.

Christmas Party at School

The annual Christmas party for the children will be held at 9 a. m. at the school. Following his scheduled arrival, Santa will distribute gifts to the youngsters. A program appropriate to the occasion will be carried out.

This party will be sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Daughters of America, and the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association.

The children will be dismissed at noon for the holiday vacation, returning to their classes Jan. 3.

Awaits Parole

Among 105 inmates of the London prison farm given releases today by the state parole board was Carl Hanson, sentenced from Columbus county on a grand larceny charge. His parole is effective Feb. 15.

Mahoning county prisoners paroled were: John Bayus, grand larceny, and Mike Reno, breaking and entering railroad car with intent to steal.

Dandelions and Pansies Reported

Parents who have been reassuring their anxious youngsters that snow is on the way are breathing a bit easier today, with the drop in temperature and occasional glimpse of snow.

But in case the little ones are not too trusting, parents should take care that they do not hear about the dandelions which were growing yesterday in the Baptist church lawn until Mrs. Merle Miller discovered them after a shopping trip downtown and took them home with her.

Nor the pansies which are blooming merrily in defiance of the season at the Charles Bogar home on the Goshen rd.

TOBIN ELECTED
BY DEMOCRATSAssistant Prosecutor Succeeds Fickes As County
Chairman

Atty Louis Tobin of East Liverpool, assistant Columbiana county prosecutor, was elected chairman of the Columbiana county Democratic executive committee at a meeting last night in the Christian church at Lisbon.

He succeeds John Fickes of Wells, who resigned because he had been appointed a member of the U. S. census board of the 18th congressional district.

Tobin will serve until the reorganization meeting which will be held immediately following the Bay, 1940, primary election.

The executive committee last night gave its endorsement of Robert M. Patterson of Lisbon, candidate for re-election as a member of the county board of elections. The appointment rests with the secretary of state.

Other business before the meeting was a discussion of probable candidates for the primary election.

Donahay Candidate
For Coroner's Post

C. E. Donahay, safety director under Mayor George Harroff, today announced that he would be a candidate for Columbiana county coronator at the Republican primaries next May.

Donahay served as county dog warden for eight years and also has served as a special investigator in the county prosecutor's office. He operates a detective agency here.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The naval cruiser Tuscaloosa, with 579 survivors of the scuttled German luxury liner Columbus, was reported off Ambrose lightship, just outside New York harbor, at noon today.

Hemmed in by a thick fog and drizzling rain, the vessel was expected to anchor outside the harbor until the weather cleared.

The speedy vessel's arrival indicated that she had escaped a storm that was moving up the coast in her wake.

Naval authorities said the Tuscaloosa had orders to anchor off Ellis Island, about an hour and a half from Ambrose in clear weather.

The immigration department will take over jurisdiction of the Columbus survivors at Ellis Island, naval officers said.

Visibility closed down to 100 yards as the vessel neared Ambrose lightship.

Scuttled in Neutrality Zone

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—State department officials disclosed today that the German liner Columbus was scuttled almost 250 miles inside America's neutrality zone. Immediately they began a study to determine whether this meant that an act of war had occurred within the zone.

First information yesterday from Stephen Early, White House press secretary, was that the scuttling had taken place when a British man of war had come upon the KIRKENES, Norway, (At the Finnish Frontier), Dec. 20.—Blizzards and temperatures of 25 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) laid a paralyzing hand on Russian-Finnish military operations in the far north today.

The Arctic winter set in with full force, making outdoor activity practically impossible.

Russian troops previously had been reported driving hard toward the south from the Arctic coast, with the Finns retreating.

No fighting was reported this morning and no movement of troops or supply trains was seen. The Russian troops erected portable huts, but inhabitants doubted whether they will be sufficient protection against the arctic cold.

40-Year Men Called

HELSINKI, Dec. 20.—Finland called to the colors all able bodied men of 40 years of age today as military sources declared Russian troops had been thrown back close to their own frontier on the Karelian isthmus and Soviet bombers renewed raids on Finnish cities. (Blizzards and 25 degrees temperatures of below zero, Fahrenheit, said dispatches from Kirkenes, Norway, near the Finnish frontier, apparently have paralyzed a Russian drive in northern Finland. The Finns, hitherto retreating in this sector, were said to be preparing a new fortified line south of Lake Inari.)

Today's mobilization order was the first going outside the normal classes of reservists.

(The call probably adds 20,000 to the Finnish forces, which were authoritatively estimated at 400,000 at the start of the war. Finnish reports have placed the strength of the opposing red army forces as high as 1,500,000.)

The men called were instructed to report by Dec. 26 with at least a three days' food supply.

M. H. Mawhinney, James H. Wilson, Russell Gibbs and Eddie Howell of Salem were among the members of the executive committee of the Columbiana County Boy Scout council which enjoyed a turkey dinner at the McKinley Scout reservation, near Lisbon, Tuesday night.

Other committeemen include Judge Riddle, president of Lisbon; Judge H. W. Hammond of Columbiana; Wilbur Mellinger and Conrad Berg, Leetonia; Samuel Adams, Wellsville; Ralph T. Couch and Frank Gardner of East Liverpool, and Charles E. Felton of Lisbon, executive secretary.

Jan. 30 was set for the annual county scouters' banquet and Felton reported that 192 new scouts had been added during the past year.

Eight new troops were organized, two in Salem (at the Trinity Lutheran and Baptist churches), one at Lisbon, one at the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, one at Clarkston, one at Fairfield Centralized school, another at the Wellsville Catholic church and one by the Township Live Community club, near East Liverpool.

The camp committee reported last night that efforts would be made to secure funds for a new dining hall at the scout reservation and for repairs to the old McKinley homestead.

President Lodge Riddle named a nominating committee for election of officers at the Jan. 30 meeting and also selected a committee to choose a recipient for the Silver Beaver award, given annually by the board to some scout who has done meritorious work.

Happy New Year, But Quiet
New Year's Eve, Seen Under

6 A. M. Monday; "Nothing Else We Can Do About It", Say Police

New Year's celebrators in Salem may acquire the "ring out the old, ring in the new" spirit at private parties, but they won't be able to buy intoxicating drinks in local establishments after midnight Saturday, Dec. 30.

Salem is one of the cities in Ohio which clamp down the lid from midnight Saturday until 6 a. m. Monday.

City Ordinance Governs

There is a city ordinance which prohibits the sale of intoxicating beverages between those hours. And says Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer, there is nothing the police department can do about it except to enforce the law. Bars and night clubs, however, may sell 3.2 beer.

In some parts of the state a "swing" New Year's welcome—fast and furious while it lasts—will be Ohio's way of ushering in 1940.

Thousands, anxious to celebrate a year of improving business conditions, will crowd into night clubs and bars—but they won't buy liquor until after the midnight whistles emit their annual blasts, and then only in cities which permit sales from midnight until 1:30 or 2:30, deadline set by state law.

And take the state liquor department's word for it, there won't be any sold until Sunday, Dec. 31 ends and Monday, Jan. 1, begins.

"That's where the swing" will come in—the law also says that holders of most permits must stop liquor sales at 1 a. m. and night club license owners must follow suit at 2:30 a. m. at 5:30 a. m. Monday, the bars can reopen for the day, except where local ordinances decree otherwise.

Mansfield is another city clamping down the lid from midnight Saturday until 6 a. m. Monday.

A Newark bar also keeps bars closed after midnight. Alliance will stop liquor sales at 1 a. m., giving one hour for New Year's welcome.

Columbus Lifts Local Rule

Columbus city council lifted the usual no-Monday-morning bar rule to conform with state regulations.

Mount Vernon residents recall that their incoming mayor, who will take office coincident with the new year, is known as a dry.

Retiring Mayor Lee Copenhaver at East Liverpool promised a "reasonable attitude" toward night spots.

Lorain has set its New Year's celebration up a day, giving the Saturday night spots until the regular Sunday morning closing hour to stage their parties.

Police Chief Russell Poole of Chillicothe said he wasn't worried about after-midnight dancing or liquor sales but that he would try to prevent traffic accidents. The police department will furnish drivers for automobiles whose owners imbibed unwisely. Motorists are asked to call the police if they feel themselves slipping.

"No Flasks" in Cleveland

"No flasks" was the order at Cleveland where State Liquor Agent S. Donald Friedman warned individuals and drinking establishment owners that arrests would be made for violations.

Many hotels in larger cities will offer entertainment starting at midnight Dec. 31.

Cover charges range from a $7.50 top at one Cincinnati hotel to $1 a couple for patrons of one Youngstown spot. Generally they will be about the same as last year.

One leading Columbus hotel scheduled no public New Year's parties. Another offered floor shows and orchestras in two rooms, with early reservations reported plentiful. One large Columbus club will observe New Year's eve Dec. 30.

Columbiana Solons
Finish Year's Work

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 20.—Village councilmen wiped the slate clean last night, approving payment of all bills so that the new council could start debt-free Jan. 1. Sitting in on their final meeting were Councilmen Charles Fisher, Homer Lehman and Leo Sponseller, who after the first of the year will be succeeded by the newly-elected, Kenneth Gormley, Ray Snike and J. J. Robinson.

It also was the last meeting for Atty R. G. Oakes as village clerk. S. Richard Orr will be the new clerk.

The solons last night also deferred revision of several ordinances, leaving the matter for the new administration. Mayor Arthur Myers thanked the councilmen for their loyalty and cooperation during the past two years.

The affair, which also was attended by wives of the Rotarians, was held in the gymnasium of the building. A turkey dinner was served. David Egan acted as Santa Claus and distributed gifts from the Christmas tree which had been placed there for benefit of the boys and girls.

Atty Joel H. Sharp, chairman of the crippled children's committee of the club, presided over the meeting.

A special attraction at the party was the appearance of "Daisy, the Wonder Horse", whose antics amused the youngsters as well as adults. The act was staged by two Pittsburgh men who constituted the "horse".

ANNOUNCES DEATH"Sacrificed His Life For Fatherland", Says
Communique

(By Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 20.—(By Telephone to New York).—Captain Hans Langsdorff, sorrowing over the loss Sunday of his prized battleship Admiral Graf Spee, shot himself to death with a revolver.

The German embassy, announcing his suicide, said his body was found this morning at 8:30 a. m. (6:30 a. m. EST).

Captain Langsdorff, the embassy said, took his life at the naval arsenal last night.

"He sacrificed his life for the fatherland," said an embassy communique.

"For the Fatherland"

The embassy statement follows:

"The commander of the glorious pocket battleship, Captain Hans Langsdorff, sacrificed his life for the fatherland last night, eliminating himself voluntarily as he himself told in a letter addressed to the German ambassador.

"From the first moment he made up his mind to share the fate of his magnificent ship.

"Overcoming his intimate desire in consideration of responsibility resting upon him to ensure the safe debarcation of his crew composed of more than a thousand young men, and pending full knowledge of regulations to affect these seamen, he postponed fulfillment of his designs."

Langsdorff was detained at the naval arsenal after he reached Argentina with more than 1,000 of his men from Uruguay where the Graf Spee was scuttled on Adolf Hitler's orders Sunday.

Internment ordered

Argentina ordered internment of the German seamen—the crew in the interior and the officers in Buenos Aires.

At 9:30 last night Langsdorff called his staff officers into consultation.

For three hours they talked.

When the meeting broke up the slightly built Captain Langsdorff gravely shook heads with each of his men, making a complete circle of the Nazi officers assembled before him.

Then he went to his room leaving word he was not to be disturbed because he was tired.

Cartoons, Western Feature "All-Kids"
Free Show at State

Annual Free Christmas show for children will be held at 10 a. m. Friday at the Grand theater, it was announced today by the Walken brothers.

A typical "all kids" program has been lined up for the occasion, headed by Tex Ritter in "Man from Texas."

This is a western feature, with plenty of thrills from start to finish. Tex gets into a tough spot when outlaws put a price on his head. But it takes more than hired guns to stop the singing son of the prairie! Yes, sir! Outlaws pick the wrong man when they threaten this cowboy, and it's bullet for bullet as Tex's guns go into action.

Tex and his horse, "White Flash," carry the big roles on the six-picture program, leaving the laughs to the five other pictures. And there ought to be plenty of laughs in these films:

"Alladin's Lantern," an Our Gang comedy; "The Little Goldfish," color cartoon; "Lambie," color cartoon; "Plumbing," a Popeye cartoon; and "Marine Circus," a Pete Smith novelty.

ANOTHER GRUDGE TO NURSE

Germany wastes no time or words in advertising intent to get even with someone for loss of the Graf Spee. Presumably, Great Britain is to be the victim of revenge.

Aside from Uruguay's complicated diplomatic position in the incident and measures threatened to salvage German prestige from destruction of one of the reich's three effective sea raiders, one fact stands out.

The Graf Spee was destroyed by Germany's decision. Alternative to destruction, either by scuttling or facing the withering fire of the enemy waiting for the disabled vessel, was internment for the war's duration.

Then, if Germany had won the war, it would have had available a first line battleship for immediate service. No party concerned had any objection to this; the sole object of the enemy was to get the Graf Spee out of the war. Internment would have been satisfactory.

Decision to scuttle the ship rather than save it on the chance of winning the war is circumstantial evidence of an attitude of despair in Germany. The German fleet scuttled at Scapa Flow on June 21, 1919, when the World War had been lost is a precedent that cannot be cited for destruction of the Graf Spee without assuming that the German government has lost hope of victory.

IT'S A GIFT

Whatever it is that enables a human being to make himself understandable in cold print, Heywood Brown had. His death at the age of 51 has extinguished one of the stars in America's journalistic galaxy.

When Brown wanted to be entertaining, he was unsurpassed. When he wanted to be angry, he stood in a class by himself. He was a master of the delicate science of fighting with the journalistic stiletto as well as the shrewd art of tickling with the feather. His touch with words was sure.

Unfortunately, he sometimes became interested in things that interfered with his career as a columnist. "Heywood was occasionally a bit of a headache," commented Roy W. Howard a few days ago in a note explaining why he and Brown had come to the parting of the ways.

Brown left Scripps-Howard and went to work for The New York Evening Post. He wrote one column for the Post before his death. Those whom he amused, instructed and sometimes annoyed share a common grief that a man so gifted could not have been immune to more of the human frailties, including death.

MUSSOLINI'S STILL WILLING

It's a hopeful sign that Mussolini's still willing to have peace, but the sign comes a few years too late to have much effect, something Italy's premier must realize in his role as Europe's smartest statesman.

Under his ministrations Italy was one of the first nations to revive the old-fashioned glorification of war. It staged one of the first conquests of the new imperialism when it invaded Ethiopia.

A politician in Germany named Hitler saw how easily dictatorship had brought about discipline in Italy and decided to go and do likewise. The politician became Reichsfuehrer Hitler, semi-god of the Nazi movement.

There can be no doubt that Premier Mussolini genuinely admires peace; he would be considerably less than astute if he didn't see that the thing he helped start has grown too big for Italy to control.

Russia's unexpected alliance with Germany has knocked the props from under his won statesmanship, based on alliance with Germany. It's either peace, or collapse of Mussolini's dream of making Italy a major power.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, December 21.

The prospects are for a day of decided advancement upon desired ends, judging by the lunar aspects, although success and achievement must be wrested from difficulties and tenacious obstacles. These seem to be deep-rooted and treacherous, with both hidden and open dangers, delays and disappointments. But it is probable that all such frustrating circumstances may be dissolved by means of the collaboration, understanding and good will of superiors or employers. Sign papers carefully. Keep things harmonious and happy at home.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of ultimate triumph over conflicting circumstances, setbacks, duplicities and kindred adversities, mainly through the good offices, wise counsel and confidence of employers, superiors or others of influence and prestige. Take pains to maintain happiness and harmony in personal relations.

A child born on this day may be studious and profound, almost to the point of gloom and melancholy, although it may be kindly, companionable and have friends and position among those of standing.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—White figures chalked on the board of trade's blackboards and denoting the prices of things farmers have to sell explained today why the grain trade is enjoying one of the merriest Christmas seasons in years.

Those gleaming numerals told a story of almost unparalleled market action the last three weeks in the Chicago pits, center of the world's grain business.

Millions of dollars have been added to the market value of important farm commodities. The best grain business in more than two years, coming just in time for Christmas, has cheered men who scarcely a month ago were discouraged by the poorest trade they have known in two decades.

Since the last days of November prices of wheat, rye, soy beans, corn and oats have staged one of the most spectacular advances in market history. Wheat has risen about 24 cents in three weeks, rye 26 cents and soy beans 29 cents. Dollar wheat is back on the blackboard and prices of all commodities except corn have been quoted this week at the highest levels in about two years.

Veteran traders cannot recall when the advance has ever been so swift. Certainly, there has been nothing like it in the grain market since the inflation trading of 1933, when wheat rose about 30 cents during July. A gain of about 40 cents in October, 1916, during the World war, was the only other occasion of such rapid advance in recent years.

Men have been put back to work on the exchange floor and in commission houses. At times trading has been so heavy that market facilities have been taxed. The volume one day this week exceeded 70,000,000 bushels. Earlier in the year not that much grain would change hands in an entire week. Board of trade memberships sold as high as $2,000 this week, $850 more than earlier this month.

To farmers with large stocks, particularly of corn, wheat and soy beans, higher prices meant more cash income from marketings and if prices hold grains should be worth more in 1940. The only forlorn aspect was the fact that the price rise, particularly in wheat, has been based at least partly on a crop calamity in the southwestern winter wheat belt. Because of an unprecedented fall drought, farmers may have very little grain to sell at high prices in 1940.

Grain men said the rush to buy commodities can be attributed to a combination of war and crop scare psychology. Serious wheat crop losses in the United States and Argentina, coupled with the war in Europe, promise to alter the international situation which has been characterized by an overabundance of supplies in almost every section of the world.

Sinks Nazi Cruiser as Revenge for Royal Oak

Here is the British submarine Ursula which the Admiralty says knifed her way through a screen of destroyers and sank a 6,000-ton German cruiser at the mouth of the Elbe River. The Nazi ship is reported to have been of the Koeln class. The daring attack is seen as vengeance for the sinking of the battleship Royal Oak by a Nazi submarine.

Amoebic Dysentery Constant Menace, Asserts Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Please tell me something about amoebic dysentery and its treatment.

Amoebic dysentery is a constant source of trouble and infection by amoebic carriers. While it is, strictly speaking, a tropical disease, we have enough carriers in the United States to make a pool of infection which can at any moment spread. After the big epidemic of dysentery in 1933 and 1934, the patients were released and there are still a few of them that are proving to be a problem.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only and then only through his column.

As late as 1937 some presented themselves for treatment because of recurrence of their symptoms. They were evidently suffering from chronic amoebic dysentery, which may follow a severe acute attack. In the chronic form there are recurrent attacks of dysentery with intervals when there may actually be constipation.

The treatment of carriers is not the same as the treatment of those with clinical symptoms.

Spots on the Hands

What is the treatment for white spots on the hands?

White spots on the skin, usually the backs of the hand and the neck, technically called "vitiligo," have not yielded very well to treatment. About the best that can be done is to advise painting the spots with the juice of walnut husks or some other dye to conceal them. Solution of potassium permanganate of proper strength can be used for this purpose.

Attempts to tan these spots have been made for many years. The trouble is that the real nature of the trouble is a disturbance of pigmentation. The spots resist the action of light, ultra-violet lights and the sun's rays. The injection of dyes into the bloodstream has been tried. Lindsay, in 1929, reported the cure of a case by the injection of gold sodium thiosulfate, and Cohen reported another similar successful case in 1933.

Eruptions

What causes blistery and cobwebby eruptions in the webbing of the fingers?

Dermatitis in the webs of the fingers, along the sides of the fingers, may be due either to ringworm infection, dermatitis, venenata, eczema or pompholyx.

"LOVE'S INTERLUDE" by -MAY- CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS
Moira Carewe and Tarleton Griggs are in love, but wealthy, self-made Joseph Griggs has social aspirations for his son and does not approve of a match with a mere ethnologist's daughter. So happy-go-lucky Tarry, realizing the contents his father's wealth affords him, placates "pater" by becoming engaged to Lady Karen Kilmorey. At a hunt meet, the day before their scheduled marriage, Lady Karen comes upon Tarry and Moira in a tender embrace. Disillusioned, she gallops off, straight to "Devil's Leap," a treacherous jump. She takes it, but falls and is killed. Tarry and Moira are conscience-stricken. He goes abroad, and Moira doesn't see him until months later when she accompanies a wealthy family to Paris as tutor to their two children. There, Tarry and she plan to marry, but again Griggs, Senior, steps in and frustrates them. He takes his son to Baden-Baden where the socially prominent Sadie Vandergelt, Griggs' choice for a daughter-in-law, is also vacationing. Although Tarry wrote he would run over to Paris to see Moira, she waited in vain. They all return home in the fall. Then comes the stock market crash. Mr. Griggs is ruined and the shock kills him. Tarry gets a position with a Wall Street brokerage house as customers' man and Moira becomes a beauty operator in Cora Deverney's beauty shop. Mrs. Rules, a wealthy, middle-aged widow, compliments Moira for the rejuvenation wonders she performed on her face. Mrs. Rules and Moira leave the shop together. Seeing Tarry waiting for Moira, the widow, who is looking for new world's to conquer, asks for an introduction. The young couple goes to her apartment for cocktails where Mrs. Rules contrives to get Tarry alone. Moira is annoyed but her spirits rise when, after they leave, Tarry tells her it had been business that kept him closeted with Mrs. Rules, and that he was going to handle her account. Back at Moira's apartment, they plan to celebrate, when Cora telephones that the ritzy Amanda Stone wants a facial immediately. Amanda's brother, Dr. Rodney Stone, a rising young physician, admits Moira. Dressed in evening clothes for her celebration with Tarry, Dr. Stone mistakes her for a friend of Manda's. He is greatly attracted.

CHAPTER X
He closed the door behind her, moving with a sure, lithe tread. He was in evening clothes, and she noticed the strength of his square shoulders, the fine long lines of his figure, the poise of his splendidly shaped head. There was no resemblance to Amanda in his clean-cut features, and Moira thought he had the kindest eyes she had ever looked into, a vividly deep blue in his bronzed face.
He led her into a small room off the foyer where he had his after-dinner cup of coffee. With its big desk and leather chairs and bookshelves, it looked as if it might be his private sanctum.
Embarrassed at the beginning over her equivocal position, the doctor, easily mannered, gave Moira no opportunity to explain her mission in his home.
"I'm sure you originally hail from Boston," was his opening remark. Then, "You see, I studied at Harvard. The accent's almost unmistakable to anyone who's lived there. Am I not right?"
Here was a mutual topic. Why, they had even friends in common in the City of Beams! The moments slipped away enchantingly. The talk was vivid, stimulating. Dr. Stone wasted little time in banalities.
Now, as Moira sat with him in the little study off the foyer of the Park Avenue flat, the telephone on his desk rang shrilly, bringing her back to recollection that she was merely here on business, and that this might be Amanda's.
He picked up the instrument. She was so close to him that she could hear the voice at the other end of the line. A male voice. The words: "urgent... no time to lose..." and some Latin medical terms, or so it seemed. Came his brief assurance that he would leave immediately. And it seemed to her as though suddenly, with that swift call, an immeasurable distance was put between them—indeed, that the doctor was no longer aware of her presence. For he hurried from the room without a word to her.
She felt curiously flat. As though, having soared in sunlit spheres above the clouds, she had been suddenly dumped to prosaic, workaday earth.
But almost immediately, his hat and coat on, young Dr. Stone reappeared. "A hurry operation... well meet later..." It's been such a pleasure..." He held out his hand, taking hers in his firm, strong clasp. There was something utterly electric in that grip of his, as though a current had been turned on, to galvanize her hand to his—their physical beings welded. "We'll meet later," he repeated.

Travelers Club Members Enjoy Guatemala "Trip"

A description of her trip last summer to Guatemala and moving pictures in color of the beautiful little Central-American country were presented by Mrs. R. E. Smucker at Tuesday's meeting of the Travelers club in the library.

Mrs. Smucker's delightful account of the trip, and her description of the people, civilization and industries, marked the pre-holiday meeting as one of the most enjoyable of the club season.

Guatemala, one of the most beautiful of vacation lands, lies south of Mexico, the northernmost country of South America. With an Atlantic seaboard on the east and Pacific seacoast on the west, its 42,475 square miles of territory, corresponding to Ohio in size, contains all the geographical features of the entire United States.

Agricultural Country
Essentially agricultural, because of the nature of the country and the people and the small demand for manufactured articles, the chief exports of Guatemala are coffee, bananas and chicle, from which chewing gum is made.

Mrs. Smucker discussed the cultivation and marketing of export products briefly, speaking principally of the people. Three civilizations flourished side by side in Guatemala, the speaker explained, the Indian which existed long before the coming of Christ, the Spanish, which was brought into Guatemala by the conquering Spanish centuries ago, and the modern, instituted by the progressive republican government.

Motion pictures showing the brilliant coloring of the Guatemala peoples and landscapes, the picturesque Indians and their market places, the beautiful buildings, were shown at the conclusion of her talk, which was supplemented by a display of native baskets, pottery and weaving.

Carols Are Sung
Group singing of Christmas carols, led by Mrs. L. D. Cessna, and accompanied by Mrs. L. W. King, concluded the program.

Tea was served by Mrs. Donald C. Carey and her committee, which included Miss Edith Campbell, Mrs. A. C. Yengling, Mrs. Burt Leeper, Mrs. Orvil Hoover, Mrs. Hiram Greiner, Mrs. W. H. Matthews, Mrs. R. C. Gibbs and Miss Grace Orr.

Christmas decorations were used on the table where Mrs. A. C. Yengling presided. Pine, cones and red candles formed a centerpiece for the table which also held bowls of fruit and clusters of bananas. The table was covered with red cloth woven by the Indians of Guatemala and used by them for all purposes.

The next meeting of the club will be Jan. 9 at the library, with a book review by Mrs. Guy E. Byers and a tea in charge of Mrs. E. S. Kerr and her committee.

Travelers club members, who will assist Red Cross and other agencies in preparing Christmas baskets for needy families, are asked to bring articles to the Memorial building Friday or before. Any kind of gifts will be acceptable.

Harriet Watt Guild Has Party
Harriet Watt guild of the Church of Our Saviour held its annual Christmas party recently in the church hall, enjoying games and contests, a gift exchange and other informal entertainment.

After distribution of the gifts, arranged under the Christmas tree, members sang Christmas carols. The contests were won by Mrs. John Vincent, Mrs. Ira Hoopes and Mrs. Paul Probert.

The quilt, which was made by the guild, was presented to Miss Leone Farmer. Articles for a Christmas basket for the needy were received during the evening, which closed with a lunch. Tables were attractive with a small Christmas tree as centerpiece, red candles and Christmas favors. Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Ann Farmer and Mrs. Ralph Coy were in charge.

L. C. B. A. Will Have Yule Program
A Christmas entertainment and gift exchange will be given by the Ladies Catholic Benevolent association in the K. of C. hall Thursday night. Members and their children will attend. Baskets will be packed at that time to be sent to needy families.

Favor Planes and Guns
PARIS, Dec. 20.—Great Britain and France, in the opinion of military observers, favor sending planes and guns—not an expeditionary force—as the most feasible sort of aid to Finland against the Soviet Union.

This despite the fact that these are resources the Allies need to conserve for their war against Germany.

Geography appeared to be the deciding factor. Planes and their cargoes of guns and ammunition could be flown to Finland. Hazards of the water route and the neutrality of Norway and Sweden would prevent use of the most direct maritime and overland routes.

Finnish circles in Paris anxiously awaited French and British assistance in conformity with the League of Nations' invitation for Finnish aid and ouster of Russia as an aggressor.

The secretary-general of the league, Joseph A. C. Avenol, was busy today arranging for a committee to coordinate aid to Finland from the Allies as well as other league members and non-members.
He will go from here to London to continue the work.

He had in preparation a message to non-league nations—which include the United States—urging that they align any assistance with the league's efforts. It was uncertain whether they would be invited to supply anything except noncombatant relief.

HOPES REVIVED FOR BUSY PORT

Wharf and Warehouses At Alexandria, Va., B-come Busy

WASHINGTON—As the dull gray hull of the Canadian freighter Markland slid against the wharf at Alexandria, Va., on Nov. 2, civic leaders looked ahead to the day when their city may again attain the rank it once held as a great maritime port.

Steaming into the port under British Admiralty wartime regulations, with a mounted 4-inch gun and a sandbag protected bridge, the twin-screw steamship inaugurated a regular service, that may elevate the 190-year-old city to its former place in the sun.

The 6,000-ton Markland, largest ocean-going vessel to dock at Alexandria in many years, will make a call at the city every five or six weeks to unload 1,000 to 2,500 tons of newsprint for the Washington Post.

Large Warehouse Built

To receive and handle the cargo the Robinson Terminal Warehouse Co., has constructed a 300-foot wharf and a $45,000 steel and concrete warehouse "completed as the Markland sailed up the river" in which to store the paper before transporting it to the newspaper plant in Washington. The company which employs approximately 65 men when a ship is in port, has facilities for complete stevedoring, storage and hauling service.

The city with a population of 35,000, is located only six miles from the capital. It is situated on the Potomac river whose 25-foot channel will permit sea-going craft from all parts of the world to touch there, and with seven trunk line railroads entering the city and the Potomac yards, second largest freight classification yard in the country located there, the city is an important north-and-south gateway and one of the leading railroad centers of the East.

Capt. Charles F. Williams of the Markland said he experienced no difficulty in navigating the river, although a light fog mantled the river on the trip. The Markland had a draft of 24 feet when loaded but easily approached the wharf, which will accommodate a ship with a 26-foot draft.

Once Large Seaport

The city of Alexandria grew up around a warehouse and in Colonial days was one of the most important of American seaports. For generations tobacco and grain were shipped and imports of many kinds entered the country through that city. The story is told of a warning George Washington is reputed to have given to the residents that if it should become indifferent to the advantages of commerce, New York would pass it as a commercial port.

It is a long time since Washington's prediction was fulfilled, but with the arrival of the Markland a new era may be said to have begun. This 6,000 ton freighter will now make Alexandria a port of call instead of Baltimore.

Present at the arrival of the ship was Mayor Richard Ruffner,

Guard Slayer

Mrs. Thillie Irelan

Confessed slayer of her 20-month-old baby, Mrs. Thillie Irelan is being closely guarded by police in Philadelphia who fear possible suicide attempts. Police claim Mrs. Irelan told them she killed the boy and dismembered the body so she might "go out to work and to parties."

who voiced the hope that the "history of Alexandria as a center of deepwater activity will repeat itself." This hope will be echoed also by the city of Washington, which long depended on Alexandria as a port.

COLUMBUS CREW NEAR NEW YORK

Survivors of Scuttled German Liner Await Immigration Quiz

The big liner outside the zone. But later expert calculation of the ship's position given by the United States cruiser Tuscaloosa showed that the Columbus sank nearly 250 miles inside the zone, on a line due east of Washington.

The blazing derelict, onetime queen of the German merchant fleet, was left alone to sink beneath the Atlantic waves in a cloud of steam.

The Columbus, which failed in a desperate dash for Europe from Vera Cruz, Mexico, already was sinking when the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa completed a dramatic rescue at dusk yesterday. Only two German sailors were known to have been lost.

Nine Women Among Survivors

The survivors include nine women. If the crewmen are found to be bona fide merchant seamen they can remain at liberty in the United States for 60 days.

But if an inquiry should determine that they are navy men or that the liner was armed, temporary detention or even internment for the duration of the war might be ordered.

The Tuscaloosa was on neutral patrol when she sighted the ship ablaze from bow to stern.

In terse wireless messages to his superiors, Capt. Harry A. Badt of the Tuscaloosa reported that the liner was being scuttled and that a British destroyer was nearby, although there was no evidence of any fighting.

The crew already had pulled away from the sinking vessel in 22 lifeboats, and the American cruiser stood by until all the occupants were picked up. The liner's sea valves were open, to hasten her sinking.

Indefinite Visit

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Dec. 20.—The captain of the German freighter Arauca, chased into Port Everglades harbor by a British cruiser, indicated today the ship might remain here indefinitely.

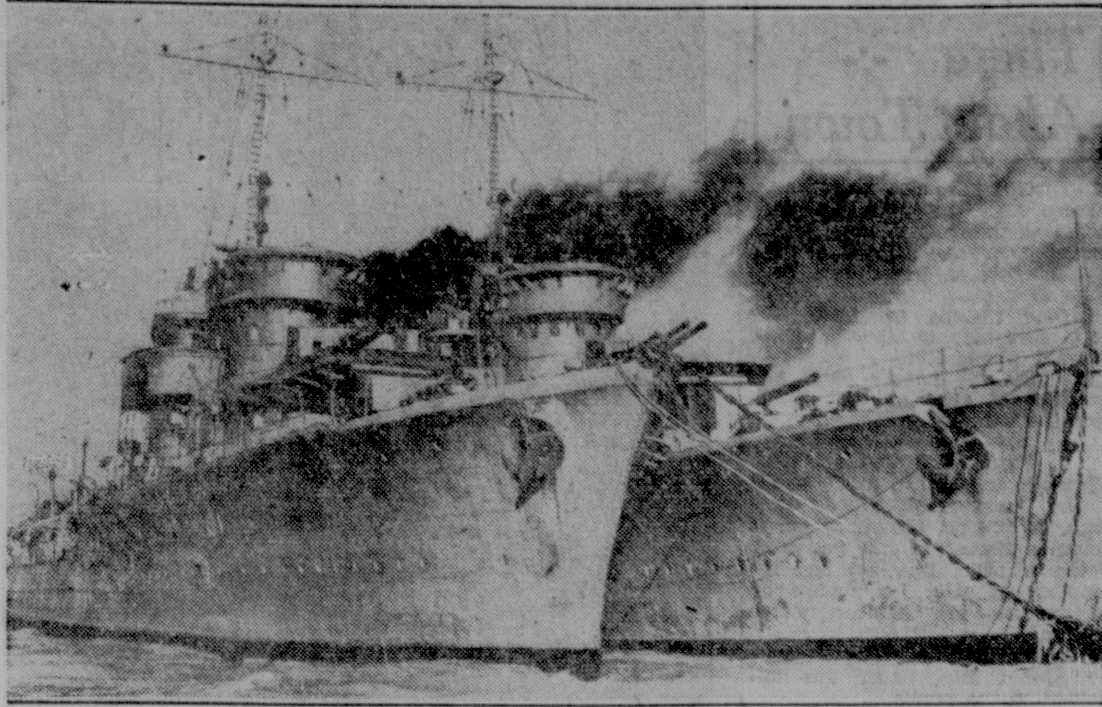

"It looks as if we might be here for two or three years," Captain Frederick Stenger laughed when told the German luxury liner Columbus had been scuttled off the Atlantic coast to avoid capture or sinking.

The 4,354-ton Arauca, on its maiden voyage, was intercepted yesterday by the eight-gunned cruiser Orion a few miles north-east of here in view of the ocean front.

Aid For Finns

"Thunder" and "Lightning" for British

Two big Polish destroyers, the Grom (Thunder) and the Blyskawica (Lightning), which escaped the German blockade, get steam up, ready for action, at an undisclosed English port. The Polish nation has been absorbed by Germany and Russia, but Poland continues to fight, her warships having become part of the British navy.

NEW CITY LOAN OFFICE OPENS

Branch Establishment of Ohio Organization Open For Business At 383 E. State St.

The City Loan, Ohio's largest personal finance organization, today announced the opening of its new branch office at 383 E. State st.

John J. Lewis, formerly of the City Loan office in Alliance, has been appointed manager. He is long experienced in City Loan service.

Other employees of the local office are William A. Robbins, assistant manager, and Ruth Venable.

Loan company officials point out that the purpose is to provide a modern, up-to-minute finance service.

The City Loan was established 27 years ago and today maintains 76 offices in principal cities and towns throughout Ohio, with total resources in excess of $23,000,000. The company limits its financing to the individual, specializing in meeting the money requirements of salaried workers, wage earners and farmers. Another division of the organization finances the purchase of radios, refrigerators, automobiles and other items that are bought on time.

During the past year the City Loan introduced two new loan features. One is the $10-to-$50 "jitney" loan service to provide over-the-counter cash. The second is a discount reward system for prompt payment of loans.

Members of Debate Team Are Selected

Members of the Salem High school debate team have been selected by J. C. Guiler, coach and public speaking instructor.

Affirmative speakers are Nancy Rogers and Kenneth John; negative speakers, Alta McNabb and Dolores Jones. Alternates are Margaret Fronius and Herbert Hansell.

Guiler, who is commencing his 11th year as debate coach, has turned out quite a few successful teams but this season finds himself with no veterans. This is the first year for members of the present squad.

The debaters will clash with Niles and Youngstown South High schools shortly after the Christmas vacation to open their 1940 season.

Canton Girl Ransom Note Called 'Phony'

CANTON, Dec. 20.—Detective Capt. Elmer Clark described a $2,000 ransom note as a "phony" as police continued their hunt today for an 18-year-old Canton high school girl.

The girl, Annie Hutchinson, left home Dec. 1 and her mother, Mrs. Annie Marshall, told police she has received three letters since the last the penciled ransom note yesterday.

Clark said he had a "tip" to the girl's whereabouts and did not believe her kidnapping. He said the hunt would be pressed, however, "to clear the matter up."

The last note, postmarked Akron, said:

"$2,000 ransom $2,000. Receive instructions later — only purpose for this is revenge. Do not notify police."

The previous letters were signed "Annie" and asserted the missing girl is living "happily married in Akron. Mrs. Marshall said they were "faked" and asked the aid of police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI office in Cleveland declined comment.

Say It With Lights Outdoors

Homes in Salem and surrounding district are putting on their radiant holiday dress, to say "Merry Christmas" and at the same time enter the Christmas lighting and decorating contest.

More entries were filed today as John Hochadel, chairman of the Junior C. of C. committee in charge, announced an extension of the deadline from today to Saturday.

Prospect of colder weather and snow flurries this weekend may be an added inducement for citizens to enter the contest. The snowfall would provide a better setting for the outdoor light displays.

However, it was pointed out that regardless of the snow, everyone has an equal chance to win one of the 10 prizes, which are valued, collectively, at $102.15.

The above picture shows how the magic of a few colored electric light bulbs strung outdoors can transform almost any home into a lovely glowing greeting card. A house can be decorated quite simply and yet beautifully, to win one of the 10 prizes offered.

So, send your name and address to the lighting contest editor, The News, no later than Saturday. The sooner the better however.

Bremen Finale

Saga of the Bremen, German luxury liner, comes to an end as the transatlantic liner eludes British men-of-war and gets safely back to the home port, Bremerhaven, Germany, where it is pictured in this radiophoto. ### SPEE'S SKIPPER TAKES OWN LIFE

Captain Hans Langsdorff
Shoots Himself With Revolver

An aide entered his room at 8:30 this morning and found the captain dead.

The German ambassador and Argentine authorities were immediately notified. The ambassador did not give the German crew word of their commander's fate until he had communicated it to the Argentine minister of war.

At noon the crew, confined at the naval arsenal, were summoned and the announcement of Captain Langsdorff's death was made to them.

German Embassy attaches said the captain's death had been expected since Sunday morning when he gave his camera and other personal effects to a man in the embassy, saying: "Take these; I will not need them any more."

The crew received the news without demonstration, in a stunned silence.

Argentine authorities posted reinforced patrols around the naval arsenal, scene of the tragedy, and withheld further details of the affair pending a full investigation.

Capt. Langsdorff had brought himself and his men here aboard tugs for internment by Argentina after destroying his prized pocket-battleship off Montevideo harbor Sunday night.

At first he had talked freely about his running battle with three British cruisers last Wednesday, in which he finally was forced into Montevideo harbor at nightfall. Last night, however, he indicated a different attitude.

"I do not desire to talk further," he said to interviewers. "I have talked so much I should now like to be quiet for the next three weeks."

RAVENNA HANDS SALEM CAGERS FIRST DEFEAT

Trocchio Scores Winning Goal as Ravens Nose Out Quakers In Close Battle

Ravenna Breaks Deadlock In Last Minute and a Half Of Play To Win 20-18; Salem Quintet Limited To Four Field Goals

A rugged Ravenna High school cage team, supplanting skill with roughness, pounded Salem High school's Quakers into submission, 20 to 18, in a stormy basketball battle played before a small crowd in Ravenna's gym last night.

The Ravens nosed out the Quakers in the last-minute and a half of play, Dan Trocchio scoring the winning basket on an angle shot from the left of the hoop. Trocchio's goal broke an 18-18 deadlock.

The Quakers battled furiously in the last minute in an attempt to regain the score, but failed to make the grade. Twice they took advantage of a new rule permitting a team to decline a free throw and place the ball in play from out-of-bounds, but on both occasions they were unable to connect for a field goal.

Score Tied Six Times

Trocchio's pay-off goal climaxed a nip-and-tuck battle in which the score was tied six times and in which neither team ever managed to gain more than a three-point lead.

The Ravens held a three-point edge once in the first period, but this was the only time during the game that the margin of difference in scoring was more than two points.

The Quakers led at the end of the first quarter, 5 to 4, while the Ravens were deadlocked at halftime, 10 to 10. Salem was out in front by one point, 15 to 14, at the close of the third period.

The score was tied once in the first quarter at 4-4 and twice in the second period at 8-8 and 10-10. Again in the third quarter the score was tied twice, at 12-12 and 14-14, while in the final period the count was knotted once at 18-18.

It was after the score was tied at 18-18 that the Quakers received two opportunities for free shots from the foul line, but on each occasion Coach Herb Brown sent instructions to the team to decline the foul shot and place the ball in play from out-of-bounds, taking a chance on scoring a field goal and winning the score.

Held To Four Goals

Unable to find the scoring range, the Quakers were held to four field goals. They failed to score from the field in the first quarter, making all of their five points on foul shots, and connected for only one field goal in the second period. Center Mike Thomas rang up a pair of two-pointers in the third period, while Bob Shoe hit from the field in the fourth frame.

The Quakers were awarded 20 free throws during the contest and covered 10 of these.

Ravenna was off in shooting from the foul line, but connected for eight field goals. The Ravens made only two of 10 free throws.

The Quakers hoped for a victory suffered a severe blow early in the second period when Glenn (Dinty) McLaughlin, only regular remaining from last year's team and the star man on offense, was ousted from the game for committing four fouls. McLaughlin saw only 10 minutes of action, leaving the floor shortly after the second quarter under way.

Ravenna lost three players via the personal foul route, but all of them were ousted late in the game.

Offense Hampered

The Quakers' offensive maneuvers throughout the game appeared hampered by Ravenna's narrow, compact gym. The Ravens court is even smaller than Salem's and the wide running track which circles above the court completely blocks the corners and handicaps play along the sides.

Much of the success of the Quakers' offensive attack depends on pass work in and out of the corners and maneuvers along the sides of the court. The Salem lads attempted to set up screen plays

CLASS A TEAMS KEEP UNBEATEN RECORD INTACT

Sanitary Posts Its Third Straight Win; O.S.E.S. Gains 2nd Triumph

Two of three unbeaten teams in the city's Class A basketball league kept their records unmarred by chalking up victories in games at the Memorial building last night.

The National Sanitary rang up its third straight win by blasting Demings, 43 to 34. Al Catlos connected for four field goals and nine free throws to lead the Sanitary scoring with 17 points. Wiggers and Weigand shared scoring honors for Demings with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The Ohio State Employment Service remained unbeaten and posted its second triumph by routing the defending champion Althouse Motors, 37 to 34. It was the Motors second straight set-back. Ronnie Shafer and Rudy Schuster each counted nine points to pace the O. S. E. S., while Drakulich led the Motors with 13 points.

Two Class B games saw the Carroll Cadets trounce the Carroll Clowns, 39 to 24, and Demings defeat Smith Creamery, 34 to 15. Mike Guappone and Tary were the big guns in the Cadets triumph. Guappone counting 10 points and Tary nine. Zappone led the Clowns with 12 points.

Tolson scored seven points to lead Demings to their victory over Smith Creamery.

Sports Gentry Asks Santa For Wide Variety of Gifts

Gabby Hartnett Wants Perfect Shortstop; Jimmy Dykes Resolves to Behave in 1940

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Dear Santa Claus: Don't be too disappointed if you haven't received letters from several of your good little sports-minded boys this Christmas.

While it was rumored that some of their 1938 letters to you came back unopened, there is no truth to reports they have given up on you entirely and are banking on the "percentage" taking better care of them next year.

Though no one bothered to reach them for confirmation, it was unreliably reported they had teamed up, at the last moment, and sent you the following telegram—collect:

Dear Santa: Every since I had a fireseat chat with P. K. Wrigley, who incidentally owns the Chicago Cubs, I've been a good boy. I promise that if you ever bring me another mechanically perfect shortstop toy named Billy Jurgens, I'll never again let those bad old Giants get him. Signed: Gabby Hartnett.

P. S.—The Bartell model you sent me last year fell apart.

Will Be Good

Santa, old pal: I think umpires are awfully nice, honest, Santa. Ever since the season closed we've been getting along swell. Of course, they tossed me and my money around rather freely last summer, but I firmly resolve to behave next year. I'd like some cigars, an outfielder hitting 385 and Southern California and seven points. Signed: Jimmy Dykes.

Dear Santa: I promise to stay away from all glass table tops next year if you will add about three innings to my right arm. Even if you don't, Santa, I'm a cinch to win 20 games. Anyone knows that! Boy, do I feel great. Wow! I'll now 'em down. Signed: Dizzy Dean.

P. S.—When I'm pitching in the world series next fall and Frank Crosetti comes up, what should I do?

Dear Santa: I'll take a lot of good football players for my Northwest team, but if you pick me a sphenomere flash can you smuggle him in the back door? If you hear of anyone who'll trade two barrels of 1938 press clippings for one reindeer, let me know. Signed: Lynn Waldorf.

No Early Champions

Dear Santa: If you insist on filling my stocking with another September football championship for Michigan, would you mind if I dropped it off the end of some convenient dock no later than next Sunday night? Signed: Fritz Crisler.

Dear Santa: Please send me a guaranteed season-proof football stocking. Iowa put a 1x6 rip in the one Notre Dame used this fall and Southern California blasted a hole in it that measured 20x12. Signed: Elmer Layden.

P. S.—Clark Shaughnessy at Chicago just told me he'll give me a mortgage on Stag field for my old one, holes or no holes.

Dear Mr. Claus: They tried to slip me a new "chain store" hat but my old one suits me, at least for another year. It certainly was lovely December weather, wasn't it, Santa? Goodbye! Signed: Keneaw Mountain Lands.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By RUSS NEWLAND (Pinch Hitting For Eddie Brietz)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—Did you know? Los Angeles has a Negro woman who manages fighters. She had four boys under contract, according to California state athletic commission records. . . . Jim Londo, the Greek rasser, took a course in public speaking while in Honolulu a few months ago.

Champion Liar

Fun in the far west. . . . Cedric Durst, manager of the San Diego coast league team, was named the 1939 champion liar of a fraternal organization when he predicted a 1940 pennant victory because he had "signed" Joe Di Maggio, Ival Goodman and Ducky Medwick as his outfield. Hank Greenberg, Joe Gordon, Frank Crosetti and Mel Ott as his infield and Lefty Grove and Mickey Cochrane as battery-mates!

Forecast

Among those who predict a brilliant major league future for Dominick Di Maggio are Mike Fisher, the 78-year-old gent who's been connected with baseball 60 years; the one and only Tyrus Raymond Cobb, "Lefty" O'Doul and Dominick's brother, the great Joe. . . . It would seem the Boston Red Sox picked themselves a prize plum. . . . Jack Dempsey flew out of here a week ago on the tail end of a storm. . . . When he arrived in the Philippines he was greeted by a typhoon. . . . Filipino admirers mobbed him. Success of the Garcia-Lee title fight he'll referee is assured. There isn't much the old champ has missed. . . . When he first came to San Francisco 22 years ago to begin his fistie climb he rode in on the brake rods.

Stanford Rumors

Rumor foundry. . . . Those close to the Stanford picture claim Leonard Timothy "Buck" Shaw of the University of Santa Clara has the inside track for the head coaching job. . . . Dud De Groot of undefeated San Jose State college has heavy backing, but the same source insists his cause is weakened by intra-campus politics.

Names of eastern coaches mentioned include Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech and Lou Little of Columbia but that of ex-Pittsburgh Jock Sutherland is conspicuous by its absence. . . . Ray Claren, manager of Lou Nova may try out his heavyweight hopeful in a couple of matches out here when Lou turns on the green light and says he is well enough to fight.

TOLEDO SHARES LEAD IN STATE COLLEGE RANKS

Rockets Boast Seven Victories In Eight Games This Season

(By Associated Press)

Wilmington and Toledo looked back on the pack in the Ohio collegiate basketball race today, the Rockets having seven victories in eight starts and Wilmington five consecutive triumphs.

Toledo stopped Bluffton, 44 to 24, and Western State Teachers of Michigan, 46 to 28, for its third doubleheader decision. Wilmington knocked Denison out of the unbeaten class, 31 to 26, in another attraction on the 10-game state program.

Bob Gerber, Akron center, flipped in 18 points to lead the rout of the Michigan five. Guard Bill Stokes made 13 points for the Rockets in the Bluffton tussle. Toledo suffered its only defeat at the hands of Princeton.

Lead at Half

Denison, boasting three consecutive decisions, led Wilmington at the half, 11 to 10. The score was tied four times. Harrison, Big Red center, topped the scorers with eight points.

Ohio university's Bobcats, who scored 131 points in two previous games, swamped Wabash, 42 to 29, for their third consecutive victory. Frank Baumholtz, crack forward, registered five field goals and two free throws for the Athens squad.

In the night's only Ohio conference battle, Case turned back Oberlin, 44 to 33. The Scientists made good on long shots to overcome the Yoemen's 14 to 13 half-time edge.

Xavier subdued Centre, 40 to 28; St. Joseph's (Pa.) shaded Dayton, 36 to 34; Wittenberg topped Scranton, 46 to 38; Washington State trampled Akron, 55 to 33, and Duquesne outscored Muskingum, 52 to 31, in other contests.

Cut Down Lead

Akron cut down Washington's 29 to 10 intermission lead early in the second half, but the rangy Cougars finished strong to pile up the big score.

Held to a 16 to 14 lead in the first half, Xavier pulled away from Centre fast in the late minutes with Center Geselbracht collecting 14 points.

The Bobcats trailed Duquesne only 29 to 24 at the half but the Ohio squad's defense split open in the late periods.

The victory over Scranton was Wittenberg's fifth in eighth games on its eastern tour. Cliff Heskett and Frank Shannon lead the Ohioan's attack.

FINNISH OFFER HOMELAND AID

Ohio Colony Doing Patriotic Work, Collecting Money, Clothes

FAIRPORT—Anxious but proud, Finns of this Lake Erie fishing village, one of the largest Finnish concentrations in America, are raising money for "the boys on the Mannerheim line," confident Finland can be saved if it holds out a few weeks against the Russians. The men have collected funds in house-to-house canvasses, and the women are knitting socks and taking warm underwear from the backs of their own children to clothe their cousins across the seas.

None of Fairport's men has been called or urged to come back, but the number of brothers and cousins in the northern nation's first line of defense is large.

One of the community's leaders, Matt Muijo, believes "the Finns have done more damage to the foe's already than England has done."

Family Situation Cited
Muijo has three brothers at the front, as has his wife. Muijo's brothers were mustered out from Tsakyro, his wife's from Ylitar.

"Three weeks ago, I heard from my mother," Muijo said. "My two oldest brothers already had gone with the air corps. My 19-year-old brother was at home, his three-day rations packed, ready to go at any moment. I've heard since that he's left. My 14-year-old brother will stay with my mother."

Next door to Muijo is Matt Kallionmaa, a veteran of Finland's civil war in 1918. He and his wife are leaders in Fairport's drive to raise money and clothing to be sent abroad.

They are uncertain about where to send aid, but are confident shipments eventually will reach the homeland.

Alma Saari, secretary of the Finnish Red Cross aid committee of Fairport, says:

"Surely our folks, if they are driven from their homeland will be able to find refuge in Norway and Sweden. Some of our gifts may reach them there."

Then Muijo, with his neighbors voices the hope:

"If we can hold them (the Russians) off a few weeks, we'll be saved."

Warm Clothing Needed
Miss Saari says her committee needs plenty of wearable clothing, and heavy. "It must be adequate for the frigid climate of Finland. We have many men's overcoats, but we need dresses, stockings, caps and mittens, and underwear for the children."

Although American-born, Miss Saari is regarded in the Finnish community as one of the best authorities on the homeland. She has visited there, studied the nation's history and corresponds regularly with friends there.

Miss Saari explained that faith is a Finnish characteristic.

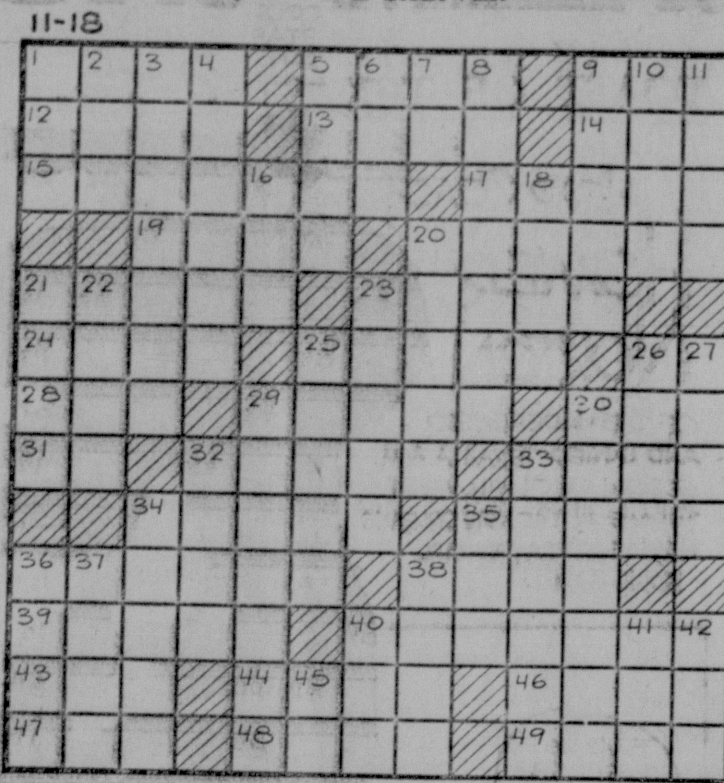

"The people are hopeful and religious. They have no fear of death, for they have an ever-abiding faith in the coming life."

"They are grateful for American friendship, but they are not expecting military aid. They are hopeful of moral support."

EXPECT LIVELY SENATE BATTLE

Missouri Sees Three-Way Race As Likely For 1940 Election

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — District Attorney Maurice M. Milligan, the man who successfully prosecuted the Pendergast and other machine leaders, is expected to announce his candidacy for the U. S. senate soon after Jan. 1. Opposing him will be the incumbent, Sen. Harry S. Truman, nominated by the machine in 1934 and re-elected in 1938. Both Stark and Truman have announced their candidacies for the Democratic nomination. Milligan's name has been mentioned often as a probable candidate but he has refused to discuss the possibility since his lips are sealed by the Hatch act. Nor can he take any steps that might be interpreted as political. Neither Stark nor Truman, on the other hand, are bound by the federal act. Truman can do all the campaigning and maneuvering he pleases while Stark can set the army of state employees in motion for him.

Truman's Future Uncertain

Many politicians believe that Truman, a staunch New Dealer, will accept a federal job and step out of the battle that promises to be one of the hottest in Missouri political history. The senator, however, has given no indication that he will withdraw. Anti-machine Democrats throughout the state have deplored the fact that the state's two leading fighters against the onetime all-powerful Pendergast machine, should look horns in a fight over the same office. If Truman remains in, many believe he would get the nomination. Friends of Milligan, however, have not been slow to claim that the major credit for the breakdown of the organization should go to the district attorney. They point out that he never sought any of the machine and struck the first blow through prosecution of the fraud cases here that sent more than 100 election officials to jail or the penitentiary for ballot-rigging.

Spearhead In Drive

Milligan presented to grand juries evidence that led to the indictment of Pendergast and such lieutenant as Otto P. Higgins, former police director; R. E. O'Malley, water department head; and Charles V. Carollo, collector of the "gambling lug" for the machine. All these men are serving penitentiary sentences. Adding to Milligan's political stature is the report of a recent federal grand jury giving him the major credit for the cleanup of Kansas City where dice once clicked in the front windows and nude dancers appeared in most night spots. "Mr. Milligan took the first step against these unbelievable conditions three years ago without any help from local or state officials," the grand jury reported. "Ever since that time he has been the relentless leader whose efforts have been concentrated toward bringing to the bar of justice those who were controlling this rotten situation."

No. 2 Red Held

BRITISH PONDER FINANCE MOVES

Keynes Urges Enforced Savings Plan For Wage-Earners

LONDON — A revolutionary scheme for financing the war by compulsory savings from all classes, in order to avoid inflation, is advocated by the well known economist, John Maynard Keynes, in two articles published in The Times which have caused a stir in financial and political circles.

Deputy leader of the opposition, Arthur Greenwood, has rejected the scheme on the grounds that it is equivalent to asking British workers to accept the same regimentation that Adolf Hitler imposed on Germany, and that 14,000,000 wage and salary earners have had no increase in wages since the war started, while the cost of living has risen.

Keynes proposes that a percentage of all incomes in excess of a stipulated minimum income should be paid over to the government, partly as compulsory savings and partly as direct taxes, the percentage to rise steadily as the income level increases.

Interest On Savings

Part of the amount would be credited to the individual as a deposit in the postoffice savings bank and the balance used to pay his income tax and surtax. The sum credited in the bank would carry 2½ per cent interest and would be blocked for the time being. They would not be available for current expenditure or as security against loans, but the holder would be allowed to use them to meet pre-war commitments of a capital nature, such as instalments to a building society, hire-purchase, and insurance premiums.

With the approval of a local committee, the holder could use them to meet exceptional and unavoidable expense arising from illness, unemployment, or the payment of death duties.

The deposits would be unblocked in instalments after the war, when the resources of the community were no longer fully engaged. Keynes states that such releases would help through the first post-war slump and give time for the government to concert more permanent plans.

Revenue Is Estimated

Keynes thinks his scheme might yield more than $1,400,000,000 in addition to income tax and surtax.

He suggests that the income free from levy might be 35 shillings for a married man, with the addition of 7 shillings and 6 pence weekly for each child.

Thus an unmarried man with 40 shillings a week would contribute one shilling weekly, a married

Exeter's Crew on Shore Before the Battle

This picture of the crew of the British cruiser Exeter was taken about a week before the warship engaged in battle with the German pocket battleship Graf Spee, off Montevideo. The men are enjoying the night life of Rio de Janeiro. Sixty-one of the Exeter's crew were killed in action when the three British ships succeeded in smashing the Spee.

man with two children would pay nothing until his income was more than 60 shillings a week.

The percentage of levy credited as savings deposit will fall and the percentage taken as taxes rise, as the level of income increases.

Thus a married man with two children, earning $1,200 or less annually, will have the whole levy credited to him in the postoffice savings bank and it will remain his property. At $2,000, the total levy would be $420, of which $310 would be credited to him and $110 retained to pay his income tax.
